

Happy Holidays

We wish you and your families a wonderful holiday season.

We wish you peace, joy, and the very best of health.

We wish you the utmost success both personally and professionally in the upcoming new year.

A Personal Message

When we first began specializing in safety in 1986, we did so because we had a desire to benefit mankind.

Life is a gift. It is precious. And it is often too easily taken from us.

We sincerely wish you, your families and your loved ones well.

Full Railroad Safety Advisory Committee (RSAC) Meeting

On December 14, we attended this meeting in Washington. One of the most interesting presentations was the one describing the issue of dark territory and the formation of the Dark Territory Working Group.

The first meeting of this working group is planned for February with perhaps 5 meetings to follow.
